Highlights

WORLD CULTURAL HERITAGE

UNESCO declared the Historical Downtown of Santiago de Querétaro, the Franciscan Missions of the Sierra Gorda and Tierra Adentro, the Royal inland road as World Heritage. The memory and traditions of the Otomi-Chichimeca people of the semi desert of Querétaro were declared Immaterial Heritage.

HISTORICAL DOWNTOWN

Querétaro is located in Mexico's heartland, only 138 miles from Mexico City.

Santiago de Querétaro is a proud city of its viceregal past, of its baroque buildings and its impressive Aqueduct built during the XVIII century. In 1996, the Historical Downtown was added to the list of the places considered World Cultural Heritage by UNESCO.

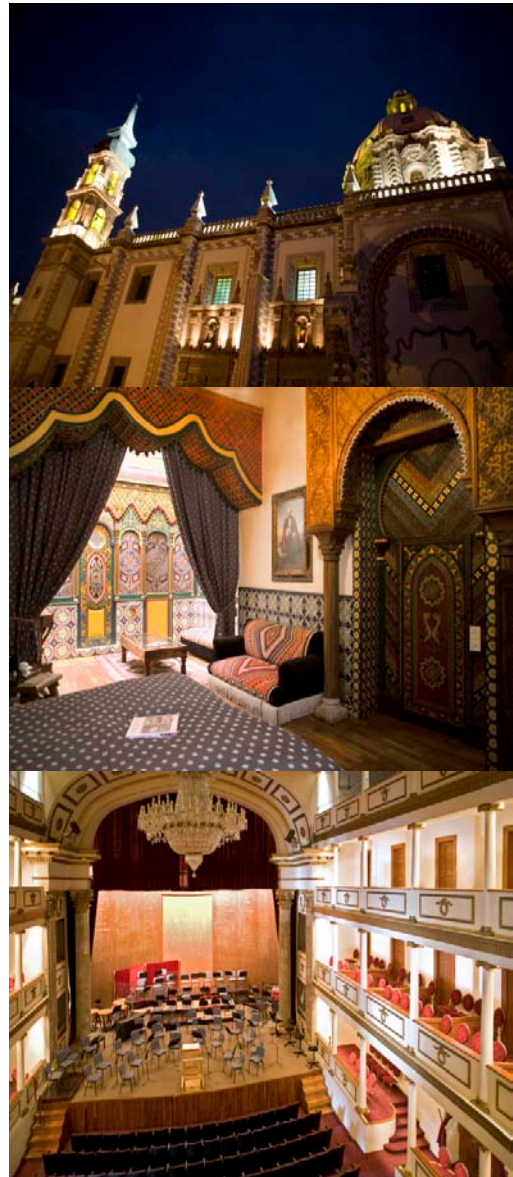

BERNAL AND TEQUISQUIAPAN

Tequisquiapan keeps a special peacefulness as it is located between squares full of flowers, visitors can have a break to buy souvenirs or take a ride in an air balloon. The Magic Town of Bernal is a mystical destination that houses the third largest monolith of the world, Peña de Bernal.

The wine and cheese route in Querétaro includes visits to the vineyards to discover the impressive wine cellars at 25 meters deep, guided tours to know the process of sparkling wine and wine tasting.

SIERRA GORDA MOUNTAIN RANGE

With the distinction of being a Biosphere Reserve, Querétaro's Sierra Gorda host a great variety of ecosystems; to appreciate numerous species of flora and fauna. The five Franciscan missions, World Heritage, are founded at the heart of Querétaro's Sierra Gorda.
